

The Molarium scientific build loop

A failure becomes scientific progress only when the objection becomes a test and the accepted change remains inspectable.